Food, resilience and retrofitting our suburbs – David Holmgren.

Join us for an evening with David Holmgren, permaculture co-originator, to present his highly engaging multi-media talk 'Aussie Street, a speculative eco-narrative, seen through the microcosm of four adjacent neighbourhood houses.

The event coincides with his recently launched book, RetroSuburbia: the downshifter's guide to a resilient future. "RetroSuburbia shows how Australians can downshift and retrofit their homes, gardens, communities and, above all, themselves to be more self-organised, sustainable and resilient into an uncertain future. It promises a challenging but exciting mix of satisfying work, a more meaningful way of living and hope for the next generation." says Holmgren.

When: 7pm, Tuesday 15 May 2018
Seymour Customer and Library Service Centre.

Visit RetroSuburbia website, www.retrosurbia.com for book details.
